Woman's Relief Corp and Custer Post Have Installation.

WOODMEN ARE DOING NICELY

Benson Camp of Woodmen of the World Believes in Thirteen as Lucky Number and Will Make It Best Year.

A large and appreciative audience assembled last Tuesday evening in Memorial hall to witness the installation of officers for Benson camp, No. 13, of the Woodmen of the World.

The officers of the relief corps were installed, beginning with Mrs. T. A. Peterson as installing officer. She then conducted the regular ritual and at its conclusion was presented with a large bouquet of carnations. The retiring president, Mrs. A. Lockner, was presented with a bouquet of carnations. The incoming president, Mrs. Olive Yorton, was also given a large bouquet.

After a few minutes' intermission the installation of George A. Custer post, Grand Army of the Republic, took place with J. A. Dempster of the U. S. Grant post in charge of the work, which he gave in a most creditable manner. Mr. Dempster was presented with a large bouquet of carnations. The services were followed by greeting friends and a very social hour.

The following officers were installed for the Women's Relief corps: President, Mrs. Olive Yorton; senior vice, Mrs. J. Clark; junior vice, Mrs. J. Foley; chairman, Mrs. A. McBride; treasurer, Mrs. Emma Grogan; secretary, Mrs. Clara Freeman; conductor, Mrs. McCoy; assistant conductor, Mrs. Clauson; guard, Mrs. A. Lockner; assistant guard, Mrs. Tebbins; patriotic instructor, Mrs. Swartz; press correspondent, Mrs. C. G. Eversen; musician, Mrs. G. H. Schlegel; color bearer, Mesdames McCrum, Johnson, Winslow, Stiles.

Officers of George A. Custer post No. 1, Grand Army of the Republic: Commander, Charles M. Harpster; senior vice commander, William H. Stephens; junior vice commander, Thomas Richey; adjutant, Charles L. Thomas; quartermaster, Jonathan Edwards; surgeon, Dr. H. P. Jensen; chaplain, Frank E. Habbitt; officer of the day, Martin J. Feenan; officer of the guard, Francis Garretty; sergeant major, Theodore E. Smith; quartermaster sergeant, M. J. Feenan; patriotic instructor, Augustus Lockner.

Benson camp, No. 13, is doing nicely and it believes that No. 13 is lucky and it is going to make it the best year of them all. Tuesday night, January 14, it installed new officers for the year. They had been especially selected for their fitness for the work. It is needless to say that they are all boosters.

Sovereign W. J. Taylor of Alpha camp was especially selected by Sovereign Commander Root as installing officer. The following officers were installed: W. J. Taylor, past consul commander; A. J. Seymour, past consul commander; A. L. Ewing, adviser; R. S. Bartlett, banker; C. L. Malher, clerk; W. H. Justin, secretary; S. E. Burton, watchman; B. J. Viola, secretary; C. H. Hallett, manager for one year.

This was a joint public affair and the ladies of the Woodmen Circle installed their officers at the same time; the degree team from South Omaha doing the work, after which a short program was enjoyed, among which was a fancy drill by the South Omaha ladies and the regular well-known by Company M. C. W. Hood was the lucky man, as he was able to stand up the longest and will wear the Mather medal the ensuing month. A substantial lunch was served by the women and was much enjoyed. Captain Todd has his company well in hand and it is drilling regularly.

PSYCHOLOGY HAS PART IN ADVERTISING FIELD

Dean Charles Fordyce of the University of Nebraska addressed a small, but enthusiastic audience at the Young Men's Christian association on the "Psychology of Advertising," last evening, and explained how the appeal to the love of luxuries and pleasures of life through artful wording and catchy illustrations was the most valuable asset of commercialism. Through the appeal to bodily comfort, ownership, or the promotion of health, the eyes of the average busy individual is constantly being directed by many attractive advertisements to the things in life, which he is missing. In this manner through repetition he is forced instinctively to buy commodities, so as to receive as much of life as his fellow man. In the skill of arranging advertising in forms of contrast, he showed how many times the point of advertisement was lost by pictures lacking artistic construction and by the portraying ugliness, which held the reader's fancy when the companion picture showing the merits of the article advertised were entirely forgotten.

YOUTHFUL FOOTPADS HOLD UP WEBSTER NEAR HOME

While returning home last night, Charles Webster of 1813 Izard street was young armed and robbed of $13 by two youthful highwaymen a short distance from his home. The two boys jumped out from behind a building and waylaid their victim.

Creighton University Notes. The final oratorical contest in the College of Arts will be held at the Creighton lodge next Wednesday evening.

The winner of first place will represent Creighton university in the state intercollegiate contest on February 23. The winner of second place will represent Creighton in the Nebraska Peace association contest to be held later in the year. Those who have qualified for this contest are Preston McAvoy, Raphael Hamilton, Paul Harrington, Ernest Simmons and James Gaffney. This contest is confined to students of the Arts college.

John W. Whelan and Lloyd A. Macghey have been elected as floor leaders of the progressive and conservative parties, respectively, of the Model House at the Creighton Law school.

The sessions of the moot court have been resumed at the law school and a series of public lectures is being delivered, one at each session.

Martin L. Sugarman and William C. Fraser have formed a law partnership. They were classmates at the Creighton Law college, and both have occupied positions in the office of County Judge Leslie for several years.

The new enrollment for the second semester promises to be the largest in the history of the school. Complete figures are not yet available, but it is safe to say that the total will go above 1,100 students.

The freshman class of the Creighton Medical college has elected the following officers for the second semester: President, Charlton Jay of Omaha; vice president, Charles Ulrich of Stewart; secretary, Riley Roche of Kimball; treasurer, Clarence Hyland of Rockford, Ill.

The great council of the Improved Order of Red Men will hold its annual session here January 23, and it promises to be one of the most interesting, entertaining and enthusiastic ever held in this reservation.

A communication from the promoters of the Made-in-Nebraska show, asking the union to arrange for a special night at the show, which is to be held early in March, was tabled, some of the members objected because of the partiality shown non-union labor by Nebraska manufacturers.

Norman Re-Elected Central Union Head For the Fifth Time

George E. Norman was elected to serve a fifth term as president of the Central Labor union at the semi-annual election held last night at Barlett's hall. He won out over T. P. Reynolds, by one vote.

T. P. Reynolds was elected vice president and John Pollan recording secretary. W. L. Marks was made financial secretary and M. N. Griffith sergeant-at-arms.

J. J. Kerrigan, C. L. Shamp and H. F. Shamp were chosen trustees.

The members present voted unanimously against the majority report of the Workmen's Compensation bill, which has been introduced in the state legislature. They favored a bill drawn along the lines of the minority report, of the committee appointed to draft the compensation bill.

H. F. Sarmen, C. L. Shamp, J. J. Kerrigan, Joseph Laux and T. P. Reynolds, were appointed as a committee to draft a bill similar in some respects to the minority report.

A communication from the promoters of the Made-in-Nebraska show, asking the union to arrange for a special night at the show, which is to be held early in March, was tabled, some of the members objected because of the partiality shown non-union labor by Nebraska manufacturers.

A resolution was introduced asking the Central Labor union to confer with the World-Herald to encourage the hiring of union pressmen and assistants. At present, the resolutions states, the World-Herald's press room force was composed entirely of non-union men. The resolution was referred to the arbitration committee for adjustment.

Prof. R. E. Stewart was boosted by the Engineer's union for the position of superintendent of the Omaha School for the Deaf. The central body concurred in the engineers' request, and voted in favor of the resolution introduced by a representative of that body.

Murderer of Girl is Lynched by Mob

PARIS, Tex., Jan. 18.—Henry Monson, a negro who shot and killed the 12-year-old daughter of Dr. Merrell, a farmer, near Pecan Gap, a week ago, was hanged last today from a telephone pole in the public square, by a mob. The negro was taken from the sheriff and his deputies after he had pleaded guilty and had been sentenced to be hanged.

Monson is said to have confessed that he shot at the girl's brother with the intention of attacking the girl. The shot struck the girl. The brother was not hurt.

THOUSAND PERSONS OFFER SKIN TO SAVE GIRL'S LIFE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 18.—One thousand members of the Boy Scouts and scores today to give a square inch of skin to save the life of Roberta Haldness, 10 years old, who was badly burned when her father, mother and little sister perished in a fire that destroyed their home at Arnette, Okla., last Christmas eve.

The girl is in a hospital here and her physicians, who declare her life can be saved only by a process of skin grafting, are asking for volunteers to contribute the necessary epidermis. The operation is to be performed soon.

OPEN GAMBLING STOPS IN TOWN OF SHERIDAN

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Jan. 18.—(Special Telegram)—Mayor Kutcher's anti gambling crusade inaugurated several months ago with the issuance of a decree forbidding open gambling reached a climax today in the arrest of ten men upon evidence gathered during the last thirty days.

METHODS OF WATER BOARD

Invaade Home of Charles Codington and Remove Water Meter.

MRS. CODINGTON THREATENED

Rough and Brutal Treatment of the Intruder Results in Prostration of the Owner of the Premises.

The Codingtons, 2406 Templeton street, tell a story of experiences with the Water board that would indicate the board already possessed all the autocratic power it needs.

A year ago, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Codington moved here from Beatrice, bought a lot at 2406 Templeton street and erected a neat seven-room cottage, moving into it only a few weeks ago. During its construction, some employees of the Water board visited the premises and without asking anyone's consent, dug a pit at the curb and put in a meter box. About this time the board ruled that all meters must be placed at the curb line and Mr. Codington was preparing to install his meter there. However, before this was done, the order was changed, to permit meters to be placed under the house. Mr. Codington had his meter set in the basement.

Early this week a man from the Water office visited the Codington home, where Mrs. Codington was alone, her husband working down town. When asked his business, he informed her, in an insulting manner, that he had come to remove the water meter and place it in the pit at the curb. Mrs. Codington told him that her husband had complied with the Water board regulations, when he installed the meter in the basement and that it could not be taken out without his consent.

At this the Water board man angrily informed the lone woman that her husband had nothing to say about it; that he had instructions to remove the meter.

Rudolph Gerber, applicant for a liquor license to operate a saloon at 912 Dodge street, where the Wick & Moore place operated last year, withdrew his application late yesterday afternoon and no other application for a license at that place will be made.

The withdrawal of the application followed the taking of testimony on a protest filed by J. H. McDonald, who said that the applicant could not operate a saloon at 912 Dodge with the "daylight business," which it would receive. Further reason for the withdrawal was the fact that the city commissioners had already decided to reject the application, because Gerber, holding a license last year, had been convicted of keeping a disorderly house, and because it was shown that there was no daylight business at 912 Dodge street.

Two protests against the license had been made, but neither was supported by a large number of residents.

The city commissioners reached a decision yesterday afternoon to refuse the license. The vote, it is said by the councilmen would have been unanimous.

and was going to do so, right there and then, or shut off the water. Frightened by the man's boisterous manner, she let him into the basement, where he cut and tore away pipes, removed the meter and carried it to the box at the curb. As a result of the shock from the coarse and rough manner of the intruder, Mrs. Codington was prostrated for a couple of days.

Money Hearings to Be Suspended Soon; Hindered by Banks

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Hearings of the house money committee will be suspended Friday or Saturday of next week, according to an announcement by Representative Pujo, chairman of the committee, who assumed at the reason for the suspension the doubt cast upon the power of the committee to inquire into the internal affairs of banking institutions.

"This action," said Representative Pujo in a statement explaining the announcement, "is due especially to refusal of the banks to disclose the names of individual borrowers of upwards of $100,000 which would affect only thirteen institutions in the United States."

IOWAN LOSES CLOTHING AND NOTE WITH GRIP

Roy Turner of Milrose, Ia., has discovered much to his sorrow that a saloon is not a proper place in which to check surplus baggage, especially when it contains anything in the form of money.

Turner arrived in the city late Thursday afternoon. He checked his grip in the White Front saloon at 1309 Douglas street. This morning he called for the suitcase. A search of the saloon failed to bring
